

As you celebrate Christmas, Hanukkah, Eid, or Kwanzaa, God comes to us in many ways. Global Women's Project sees God in the lives of women and children all over the world! Join us as we work with women seeking justice through grassroots projects in Rwanda, Nepal, Sudan, Palestine, and Uganda.

This holiday season, who really needs more stuff? Instead, we invite you to make a donation to Global Women's Project in honor of someone you love. Visit our website at globalwomensproject.org to download lovely cards to give to the persons you are honoring. Thank you - you are touching lives and making a difference in this broken, hurting world.

Blessings to you and yours from all of us on the GWP steering committee,

Judi Brown, Carrie Eikler, Nan Erbaugh, Myrna Frantz, and Anna Lisa Gross

Global Women's Project seeks to educate ourselves (as variously privileged people) about the global poverty, oppression and injustice that women suffer, and how our own overconsumption and misuse of resources directly contributes to their suffering.

Global Women's Project invites all women to live in solidarity with women around the world seeking to empower women and girls in their own communities in living a life of dignity and respect.

Global Women's Project is rooted in the Church of the Brethren.
